Professor David Housman, advisor

I would like to thank my advisor, Professor David Housman, for all of the time he sacrificed to help me with this project.
Without his undying devotion and his persuasive encouragement this research would never have come this far.
His love of mathematics gave me the motivation that was needed to complete this project, and also the drive to go further in my studies of the mathematical sciences. I am truly indebted to him.

Thank you,
L. J.
